Philanthropy Helps Protect Caregivers From COVID-19

Hoag Nurse Shares Her Gratitude For Hoag Donors

When Hoag nurse Cecy O'Berg, BSN, RN, PHN, PCCN, first learned that her unit would become a cohort for COVID-19 infected patients, she was apprehensive. Uncertainty soon turned to business as usual after Cecy realized how well-supported she would be. Hoag provided Cecy and her colleagues with information on how to work safely, protect patients and protect themselves. "Hoag's Infection Prevention Department had an answer for everything. I think that's what made us nurses feel so confident," she said.

Cecy is grateful for Hoag's high level of preparedness and to the donors, who are helping ensure Hoag staff will be protected for the duration. "I really want to thank our donors. Because of their giving, we never have to worry about our supplies of PPE. Knowing the community is behind us really allows us to focus on delivering the best care for our patients," said Cecy.
